Suggestions:

- Repeated topic, should have been more interactive
- The current time management and course scheduling are not well-structured, which is causing significant difficulties for students. Due to the tight and poorly planned timelines, most of us are unable to understand and learn the topics properly. As a result, around majority of the students are struggling both academically and with the add-on courses. This situation is affecting not only our studies but also our mental health. We request better planning and a more balanced schedule to help improve learning outcomes and reduce stress.

Suggestions for improvement -

The same topics were repeatedly told instead of new topics. There was communication gap between the trainer and us. The training was not much effective and only few topics which could be completed within two days were constantly repeated for five days. Many things which were of use were not taught.
